

officially entered this conflict on March 12, 1947 and won it on December 31, 1991 at the stroke of midnight. During that time, America saw the creation of the Central Intelligence Agency [CIA], and the implementation of both the Marshall plan, and the Truman doctrine.

Mr. Speaker, the cold war was a war that the United States won. It took 50 years to win, but it showed the whole world what we have always known, that a democratic form of government will outlast a communist form of government. As we look at the world now we see that the former Eastern bloc countries are democratic and are now becoming partners with the United States in a whole host of issues. This would not have been possible without these cold war warriors tremendous efforts. This in itself is reason to erect a monument.

Mr. Speaker, it is my hope that all of my colleagues will support the passage of this legislation.

STATEMENT ON THE DEATH OF WALTER HOLDEN CAPPS

HON. BILL LUTHER

OF MINNESOTA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, November 7, 1997

Mr. LUTHER. Mr. Speaker, we all lost a friend last week with the passing of Representative Walter Capps. Walter's untimely death, coming without warning, reminds us of the fragility of life. Even though he was only here in the House for 10 months, Walter and I spent quite a bit of time together. Our committee assignments, Science, and International Relations, were identical and we also served together on the Science Subcommittees on Basic Research, and Space and Aeronautics. Walter's positive outlook, passion for service and tireless sense of humor helped make sometimes lengthy committee proceedings seem to go just a little quicker. I'm going to miss Walter Capps not just because he was a friend and a genuinely good guy but also because he was the kind of person we need more of in Congress. I am also a new person to this institution, having arrived here just 2 years before Walter and I know that he was committed to doing everything he could to change the public perception and the private reality of Congress. He was a reformer in the truest sense of the word—a person dedicated to making Government work better for our employers, the people. Our hearts and prayers go out to his wife Lois, his children Lisa, Todd, and Laura, and the people he represented. We know you'll miss him so much and we will too.

WELCOMING THE WORLD RE- KNOWNED ST. MICHAEL'S BOY'S CHOIR TO WASHINGTON, DC

HON. JAMES V. HANSEN

OF UTAH

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, November 7, 1997

Mr. HANSEN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to take this opportunity to announce that some very talented young individuals will visit the House of Representatives in early December to honor us with a short musical performance in the Cannon Caucus Room. The St. Michael's Boy's Choir, representing the St. Michael's Boy's Choir School from Toronto, Canada, is visiting the Washington, DC area and has agreed to perform a Christmas medley the afternoon of December 5.

Mr. Speaker, please allow me to pass along some words of praise for this fine group of young people.

Canada's St. Michael's Choir School has been internationally acclaimed and is considered to have one of the finest boy's choirs in the world. The 150 boys who made up the choir represent over 40 different ethnic groups, and they come from many countries.

The choir school, located in Toronto, Ontario, Canada, offers training from grade 3 through grade 13, with a student body of over 370 boys. The secondary school offers a 5-year arts and science program for the 98-percent of students who continue on to a university or college program. To qualify for admission to the choir school, students must have a good voice and a musical ear. Each boy has private piano lessons weekly and may also be invited to study pipe organ, violin, or classical guitar.

The music program for this choir school was so highly regarded that it was accorded an affiliation with the Pontifical Institute of Sacred Music in Rome, one of only six in the world. This affiliation, the only one accorded to a North American school, allows the authorization to grant degrees in sacred music.

The Boy's Choir makes two trips a year out of Canada—one to Europe and one to the United States. Earlier this year, they were in Europe to sing at a major music festival where they were awarded first place and had the opportunity to sing before the Pope. Additionally, concert tours, recordings, radio and television appearances, and live performances have increased their visibility to the world audience. Their best known concert in Canada is the annual Christmas Concert which attracts over 8,000 people annually.

Mr. Speaker, we are indeed fortunate to have these wonderful young men here on December 5 to sing for us in the Cannon Caucus Room. Brian Rae, their choir director, has told us his boys are excited and honored to be coming to our Nation's Capitol and are looking forward to their performance for the House of Representatives. I invite all my colleagues and their staffs to attend this wonderful event.

SMALL TURBINE INVESTMENT CREDIT

HON. JIM McDERMOTT

OF WASHINGTON

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, November 7, 1997

Mr. McDERMOTT. Mr. Speaker, last month, the World Wildlife Fund conducted a national survey regarding the attitude of Americans toward global warming. One interesting result was that voters overwhelmingly support proposals which encourage consumer access to clean energy options. In particular, 81 percent of Americans responded that tax incentives should be made available to encourage the sale of clean energy.

Since coming to Congress, I've worked on several initiatives to support wind turbine investment. Today I introduced a bill which will provide a 30-percent tax credit toward the purchase of small wind turbines, 50 kw or less. Similar legislation already has been introduced by Senators CHARLES GRASSLEY and JAMES JEFFORDS. I hope a majority of my House colleagues will join me in supporting this bipartisan legislation.

At a time when U.S. energy consumers are under international pressure to reduce CO₂ emissions, passage of the small wind turbine investment credit will, in my view, encourage alternative energy use for small users, increase the international competitiveness of U.S. alternative technology industries, and help rural communities that lack access to utility grids.

HONORING AUGUST F. SCORNAIENCHI

HON. RONALD V. DELLUMS

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, November 7, 1997

Mr. DELLUMS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to honor August Scornaienchi, the Alameda County Superintendent of Schools, on the occasion of his retirement. Mr. Scornaienchi has devoted over 36 years of service in public education, 24 of those in leadership positions within the Alameda County Office of Education. He is a visionary who has worked diligently at education reform before it became fashionable. This vision, his passion, and his leadership abilities have earned him the respect of not only his colleagues, but the community as well.

Superintendent Scornaienchi has been a champion for students of minority and marginalized groups and has worked diligently to provide for their special needs. He was one of the first to develop and later expand an outstanding bilingual/multicultural education program which gained a statewide reputation as a model program. He was instrumental in developing educational programs for homeless children, recognizing the incredible hurdles that this population faces. This program included setting up a portable unit at a shelter in Berkeley and equipping it with computers and educational materials, securing grants to pay for tutoring programs, and conducting workshops for staff to learn how to better serve homeless children. He has expanded county office educational services to neglected and delinquent youth by opening four community-based school programs and an innovative "boot camp" for at-risk students in collaboration with the probation department. He has furthered the opportunities for pregnant and parenting teens by providing alternative programs, including academic and support services which allow students to complete their high school education. In addition, he was among the first superintendents in the county to publicly condemn homophobia in our schools and to encourage local schools to address the intolerance and the other complex issues facing this student population.

Superintendent Scornaienchi clearly recognizes that there are many factors that impact upon a child's education. Under his guidance, the county has taken a leadership role in the areas of school safety, dealing with hate-motivated behavior, Healthy Kids Resources and Healthy Start Programs, staff development, new teacher training, business-education partnerships, effective parenting, interagency collaboration, and using technology in the classroom.

His work and commitment to the community does not end at the school door. He has chaired the Inter-agency Child and Family Policy Board, which is composed of all department heads from various agencies in Alameda County. His goal was to find ways for these various children and family county service providers to work together more efficiently and effectively by considering innovative measures such as blending funding streams and reducing red tape and redundant services. He also served as cochair of the East Bay Conversion/Base Closure Board which makes policy decisions that have far-reaching impact on schools and communities throughout the bay area.

Superintendent Scornaienchi vociferously advocated and worked for the implementation of a statewide proposal to levy a surcharge on tickets for professional sporting events to help save school athletic programs. This campaign was expanded to include an assessment on performing arts tickets to support the arts program for homeless children. Recognizing the need for global interaction, he developed and administered the first county office student international exchange program with the former Soviet Union designed to promote a better understanding between our countries and establish invaluable communication links. There is no doubt that the program participants expanded their world view and learned important life lessons.

I ask that my colleagues join me in commending the incredible dedication of this public servant. His advocacy for the welfare of children has brought together all segments of the community to address the improvement of services to all of our children. Thank you so much for your many years of service. I and the people of Alameda County are grateful to you and wish you well in this new phase of your life.

SYLURA BARRON: AN AMERICAN HERO

HON. BOB FILNER

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, November 7, 1997

Mr. FILNER. Mr. Speaker and colleagues, I rise today to mourn the passing and celebrate the life of one of San Diego's most cherished civic leaders, Sylura Barron. For almost seven decades Sylura Barron made her mark on San Diego business, politics, and society.

Sylura was born on Christmas Day, 1900, to Richard Richardson and Comelia Booker in Mainsfield, LA. Joining Calvary Baptist Church where her father was its first pastor in 1929, she remained a loyal member until her passing on November 4, 1997. She leaves a loving extended family, an admiring community of friends, and a legacy of service from which we will all draw strength and courage.

Sylura Barron championed the shared goals and beliefs of the Democratic Party, and every Democratic leader from Franklin Delano Roosevelt to William Jefferson Clinton was honored by her input and her unflagging devotion to the community and Nation. which she viewed as her own extended family.

The Democratic Party and our beloved Nation are better because of the contributions made by true patriots like Sylura Barron. Throughout her life, Sylura fought to promote educational and business opportunities in communities that often lacked strong and determined representation. Sylura was a thoughtful and eloquent promoter of a society that could step beyond divisions of race, class, ethnicity, gender, and sexual orientation. Sylura was a voice for all of us.

Sylura Barron learned very early in life that there would be many barriers put in front of her, and she became determined to not only cross over those barriers, but to tear them down so they would not slow anyone following in her steps.

Sylura Barron always felt that room should be made in the Democratic Party and in the Nation as a whole for every segment of our society. "Leave out no one" was one of her favorite slogans. She was a determined and dedicated fighter, and she demanded that her voice be heard. Many times she led progressive movements to make the point that her political party was truly the party of the people. Sylura sometimes wondered if she was fighting this battle alone. Sylura, you can rest assured, thousands followed your lead—and you left out no one.

Mr. Speaker, I hope that my colleagues will join me in keeping Sylura's dreams for our Nation alive. Leave out no one.

CAMPAIGN FINANCE REFORM

HON. RON KIND

OF WISCONSIN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, November 7, 1997

Mr. KIND. Mr. Speaker, today is November 7, over 4 months after the July 4th deadline that the President set for passage of campaign finance reform. I have delivered each day since that time a statement in the House of Representatives calling on the leadership to allow a vote on any one of the many campaign finance bills pending in this Congress. My pleas, and the request of many others, has gone unanswered. We are now entering into the final weekend of our legislative year. By Sunday we may be out of session, not to return until late January of next year. If we don't act this weekend we will never change the current system.

The examples of abuse of the existing system are too numerous to mention. I have documented many of the abuses, on both sides of the aisle, in my earlier statements. The Republicans have invested an enormous amount of taxpayers' money investigating and exposing the alleged violations of law by the White House in the last election.

Investigation is good. Those who broke the law should be brought to justice. The sad fact is, however, that many of the most well known abuses are technically legal. We must do more than investigate, we must legislate. With only a few days left, we must act now. Let's take some time this weekend to debate, consider, and pass campaign finance reform.

The people of my district will not take no for an answer.

HONORING KAREN S. DAUGHTRY

HON. EDOLPHUS TOWNS

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, November 7, 1997

Mr. TOWNS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor the work and achievements of Dr. Karen S. Daughtry. While working as the director for the past 26 years of the Alonzo A. Daughtry Memorial Day Care Center, her dedication to issues concerning women and children, locally and internationally, has proven incomparable.

As a 1996 recipient of the doctor of ministry degree from New York Theological Seminary, her commitment to social change, through her faith, is unquestionable. Using a Christian perspective, she has focused on increasing knowledge and comprehensive understanding of social and political issues which impact on and relate to family life, health, the arts, and educational and personal development. Dr. Daughtry, has been able to further her goals by serving as an advisor to the House of the Lord Youth Department and Sisterhood, and as chair of the Church's National Department of Women's Work. Dr. Daughtry also serves on the board of directors of the Randolph Evans Memorial Scholarship Fund, an organization formed in 1979 which awards 10 scholarships of $1,500 each to Brooklyn college bound youth in the name and memory of Randolph Evans, a 16-year-old shot to death in 1976 by a police officer.

Under her leadership, Sisters Against South African Apartheid [SASAA] participated in a petition drive which delivered thousands of signatures to the United Nations on behalf of detained and tortured children of Angola and hosted Mrs. Maria Eugenia Neto, the mother of Angola, at a special service when she visited the United States. In addition, SASAA was proud to host Zenani Mandela, daughter of Nelson and Winnie Mandela, a year prior to his release from prison. The organization also participated with the Nelson Mandela Reception Committee in organizing the first visit to New York City of Nelson and Winnie Mandela, and hosted Mrs. Mandela in programs at the House of the Lord Church and the Brooklyn Academy of Music.

Probably what Dr. Karen Daughtry would consider her most important achievement, however, is the raising of her family. She has been married since 1962 to Rev. Herbert Daughtry, national presiding minister of the House of Lord Churches. They are proud parents of three daughters, Leah Dennyatta, Sharon D'Boya, and Dawnique Dekeba and one son Herbert, Jr., all college graduates.

Though Dr. Daughtry may only be one person, she has shown this country and the world the power of what one person can do. As a result, Dr. Daughtry has been the recipient of a plethora of awards and proclamations for her work and achievements. Mr. Speaker, please join me in honoring Dr. Karen Daughtry for all of her important work.
